1892-1893.
The day of days is nearing—October 21, 1892—the quadricentennial anniversary of the discovery of America by immortal Christopher Columbus.

The Los Angeles Times has fixed upon this historic and glorious day for the issuance of a special illustrated Columbus Number, to consist of twenty-four pages (besides a four-page illustrated supplement), descriptive of Los Angeles and Southern California.

Has any one a recipe for fumigating against the sleeping-car porter high-wyman?

SINCE David has commenced cutting bait, Grover is probably fishing with renewed zeal.

The day after the election Cleve will find he has been bucking at the tiger with the usual results.

GROVER says he will give it out this week. All right, Grover, we are waiting to see what it looks like.

GROVER seems to have fixed it all right with Hill, but Peck's figures persistently refuse to be "placated."

MRS. LEASE, by standing up and yelling "liar," has at least demonstrated to our satisfaction that she is no gentleman.

NANCY HANES is a back number. One of the human family up at Minneapolis has just made a mile in 1:56 on a bicycle. We still lead!

A St. Louis drummer has discovered that there is a love microbe, but we don't see anybody fumigating against the little pollywog very much.

OUR McKinney is no slouch of a trotter himself. The imperial county of Los Angeles goes right along holding its own with the remainder of the country, with entire aplomb and things.

A LOCAL undertaker came near embalming himself a couple of days ago with a mess of stuff that burned turndown his epiglottis at a high rate of speed. He now knows how it is—in a measure—his own self.

IR men who are fumigating those Hamburg-American packets should happen to set a few of the old tubs afire and burn them to the water's edge, we doubt if anybody in this whole country would cry their eyes out.

A SPECIAL dispatch from Washington, printed in the San Diego, says: "The Democratic horizon has taken on a very rosy hue." For "horizon" read "nose," and we are prepared to accept the statement as being thoroughly O. K.

DAVID B. is taking his medicine like a little man, but the drastic dose is downed too late. The iron has entered the soul of the Democracy, and Grover, with all his groveling at the feet of Tammany Hall, will find the November frost simply a killer.

THAT little episode up in Washington makes the reported death of Jesse James look like a canard. Perhaps, however, Chris Evans was the fellow that led the gang. We throw out the suggestion to the sleuths that are missing up the trails so around Sampson's Flat.

THREE HUNDRED carriages are to be supplied by Chicago livemen for the dedication of the World's Fair, for $22 apiece. Well, this is better than twenty-two carriages at $300 apiece, but they will get up to the latter figure all right enough by the time the show really begins.

THE papers back East that printed spreads about the melée at New Orleans are now taunting each other for giving up so much space to a nasty, slopping match. If the blue pencil was mightier than the fist, there wouldn't be an unpunished editorial mug east of the Rocky Mountains.

CHARLIE EVANS is mighty nearly as poor a letter writer as is Grover Cleveland. He handles a Winchester and a six-shooter with far greater deftness, just as Charlie does a pole and line. It is all right for Charlie to cut and shoot and rob, but if he continues to write letters, he will get an exasperation will get the better of him.

O. P. government has to tolerate the disposition of Europe to keep their power. This is a sure sign in a republic that it has outlived its usefulness. Good-by, plutocrat!—[People's Party News.]

The above is Hog Wash with a very large H and a two-line W.

It is related that frogs are stealing chickens down in Georgia, and that recently an aged native was attacked by one of the monsters and lost his coat in the scuffle. The Cincinnati Times-Star thinks it probable that the frog will go back and get the old man's coat and vest. But what is the matter with his shoes and socks and the other vital elements of the sufferer's wardrobe? We believe in going the whole hog or none.

CALIFORNIA is certainly a favored spot. It has a man running for President on the cold-water ticket, a woman running on the ticket with John Woodhull, a man that ran against John L. Sullivan and did him up, a filly that can beat Nancy Hanks, if Mr. Bonner will give her a chance, and retains that glorious climate which has gone into song and story. Is it, in view of all these facts, too much to say that we are the people?

THE Oakland Times keeps up that long, guttural roar about its roasted pavement. Knowing how scarce pavements and other improvements are across the bay, we are inclined to ooze a little sympathy for the Oakland Times in this matter, but suggest that it go out and lick the county committee and give the rest of us a season of repose about it. Peace is far more than pavements.

GOVERNOR ST. JOHN, with an ex, "thinks" the prohibitionists will carry Nebraska. Mr. St. John's thinker must be out of gear, and he should have it taken into the shop and overhauled at once. Some day he will get away out on the road somewhere with it and find that it has a hot box, a sprung axle, or a loose tire. He oughtn't to take such desperate chances.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

A TRIFLE OF 774,000 MILES.
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25, 1892.—[To the Editor of the Times.] In my article on Jupiter, printed in your issue of today, I am made to say that "the diameter of Jupiter is 86,000 miles, being nearly eleven times that of the earth." Of course, the number contains one cipher too many, and should read "8,600 miles," which will make it consistent with the remainder of the sentence, and also with the approximate "circumference of 200,000 miles" in another paragraph. The figures, as printed, very nearly express the diameter of the sun, which is about ten times that of Jupiter.

DISCOVERY OF AMERICA.

Italians Preparing for the Celebration of the 400th Anniversary.
A largely-attended mass-meeting was held by the Italian colony yesterday afternoon, called by a provisional committee of some prominent Italians, for a grand celebration of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America.

Over $800 was collected for expenses.

A permanent executive committee was elected as follows: A. Tignolo, president; G. Maricchi, G. Sornani, vice-presidents; L. Guasti, treasurer; J. Barloti, secretary; J. Longo, vice secretary; G. L. Castruccio, grand marshal.

There will be a street parade, fireworks and a grand ball in the evening.

Being a day that should be celebrated by Americans and foreigners alike, invitations are extended to everybody, so as to make it the grandest celebration ever held in Los Angeles.

The authorities and all the societies in the city are cordially invited.

ANOTHER JAIL DELIVERY.

Gordine Horton Gives the Authorities the Slip—How It Was Done.
There was a jail delivery at the County Jail at 6 o'clock last evening, but the officers did not discover that Gordine Horton, the notorious horse-thief, was built originally for a jail yard, where there is a door leading to the street.

It seems that Under Jailer Nick Quireto had a couple of "trusties" named Forrest and Bonner in the rear part of the jail emptying slops, when Horton, who was supposed to be in the cell, as soon as the main door was closed and the jailer had disappeared he crawled through a window and made his way to Broadway.

The slops are taken out in cans through a door that leads from the rear part of the jail, to the engine-room, which faces on Broadway.

After passing this door, which is left open, the deputy goes ahead of the trusties to the rear part of the engine-room, where there is a door leading to the street. As soon as the slops can be taken out, the party returned to the main building and the jail was locked up for the night.

At 7 o'clock the trusties and prisoners, who are allowed to walk about the corridors until that hour, were herded into the tanks and the cell called. It was then that Horton was discovered. Horton had escaped, and every deputy that could be found was started out, but up to a late hour the man had not been recaptured.

Horton is the fellow who was convicted in the Police Court a few weeks ago on a charge of stealing a load of hay from a Frenchman. He was given 150 days in the County Jail. There is a case against him of embezzlement for getting away with a pair of horses and a wagon at Redlands, and as the police have been after the fellow for almost a year they were considerably worried last night when they learned that the rascal had escaped.

HE KNEW THE VALUE OF ADVERTISING.

A successful business man is one who generally understands the value of advertising. He knows a good thing when he sees it, and doesn't, as a rule, waste any time in making up his mind. A Times solicitor had an experience one day that illustrates the case in point. On his rounds he incidentally dropped into a large wholesale house in the northern part of the city. The genial proprietor was at his desk, and as the solicitor entered, called out, "Hello, that's all right. I know what you are after. You want an 'ad' for your big number, and I want one, too. Six inches double, $2 an inch, give me a good place, he's a cigar, God-by—I am busy just now," and the man of business continued at his work, without missing a figure. The entire transaction did not take two minutes, and it is needless to say, was agreeable to both parties.

PECK HAS PROOFS,

And Will Give E. Ellery Anderson 89,000 of Them.

They Will All Be Sworn to—His Records Not Destroyed.

"Cleveland's Fool Friends" Strongly Arraigned by the Commissioner.

Many Facts Obtained Under a Pledge of Secrecy, Which Will Not Be Revealed—The Census Confirms Mr. Peck.

[New York Press, Sept. 18.]

Labor Commissioner Peck intends to make things lively for those who have questioned the correctness of his figures in his now famous report. He came to New York yesterday and was seen at the Victoria Hotel by a Press reporter. He talked freely and seemed to be perfectly content with the outlook in the mandamas proceedings which will be settled this week.

When asked as to the truth of the statement that he had burned or caused to be destroyed the individual reports from which his report was compiled, he said:

"The papers have not been and will not be destroyed, but Mr. Anderson and the other muggumps or anti-snappers, as they call them, will not get them. I obtained most of those reports on my personal pledge that no names should be disclosed."

"I could not have obtained the data for my report, as the census bureau has power to require facts concerning any man's private business. The same rule holds good in all the States where there are statistical bureaus and also in obtaining figures for the United States census."

In Massachusetts it is by statute made a misdemeanor to reveal such facts. I wrote personal letters to thousands of manufacturers who had refused to send figures asked for in my circular, and I promised to keep their names secret, they trusted me with the facts. I will not break my pledged word, no matter what will be the consequence. I will go to jail first."

"As to the correctness of my figures themselves, they were a surprise—disagreeable, if you will, but a surprise to me. I had expected it to be all the other way, and the first tabulation on the silk industry was our way, but nine-tenths of the others, both individually and by trades, showed larger increases in both production and the wages paid."

"It was the most searching investigation ever made in this State and the figures published are correct. They are borne out by those obtained by Commissioner Wadlin of Massachusetts, and by Commissioner Peck of Indiana, who is a staunch Democrat. He, like myself, began the investigation in the expectation of obtaining different results."

"I took on the line of the census obtained from manufacturers while he took those obtained from the workmen themselves, yet our figures coincide exactly. He is an elective officer, and he is a candidate for reelection in his State on the Democratic ticket."

"I have heard from both departments, in fact from a majority of the twenty-eight in the United States, approving my course in refusing to give the names asked for by that person, Anderson, and his telling me to keep my tongue shut on the subject from Commissioner Hotchkiss of Connecticut."

"The most amusing thing to me in all this is that the word of a State officer, who has held office without complaint for nine years, and who was good enough to be appointed by that superlatively pure patriot, Mr. Cleveland, should be doubted."

"Now these impudent persons say they want abstracts and affidavits, and they will get them. As a matter of fact, they do not want them, but I intend that they shall have them until they are sorry they ever made their little bluff. By Tuesday or Wednesday of this week I will give them certified transcripts of 20,000 individual cases of increased wages and production, and I intend to give them over 89,000 before I am through, and they will all be sworn to. If Anderson wanted the names and facts he could get them almost as easily as I did."

"I took Wilson's Business Directory and wrote to the manufacturers whose names were in it. Let him take the names of those in New York City and seven-tenths of them will admit that they were not there, and as to the rest, in their cases the facts are as I have stated. But these howlers for purity do not want facts."

"The trouble is, Mr. Cleveland has a lot of fool friends, and he has thousands of them, and they are all against him. He does not want them, but I intend that they shall have them until they are sorry they ever made their little bluff. By Tuesday or Wednesday of this week I will give them certified transcripts of 20,000 individual cases of increased wages and production, and I intend to give them over 89,000 before I am through, and they will all be sworn to. If Anderson wanted the names and facts he could get them almost as easily as I did."

"The fact was successful, the matter had been reached the ears of the police, but he was promptly laid out and sent to his hotel, slightly disfigured and not in the ring by any means."

As soon as he declared himself when he discovered that he had been robbed, he smashed the first gambler who came within reach, and a general fight was soon under full headway."

The "sucker" is a powerful young man and he managed to get in several telling blows, but the bunco men were too many for him, and in a few minutes he was in a fit condition for the receiving hospital, but as that institution is closed to the police station he was sent to his hotel, where he told a most pitiful story about how he was set upon by foot-pads and robbed."

The whole story leaked out, however, and the police were alerted. The case has been worked up to such a point that there would be no trouble about convicting three or four of these fellows, but the victim flatly refuses to prosecute, and the detectives who worked up the case are so angry that they cannot see straight."

Cases of this kind are a common occurrence in this city and will continue to be as long as the victims of swindling men refuse to go into court and prosecute the men who have robbed them."

The people are always kicking about the police not doing their duty, but they should remember that the police can do nothing without evidence, and if the victims of the robbers will not go to court the police are powerless."

The district fair will open next week in this city, and the city is already beginning to fill up with the usual gang of robbers, but it is safe to say that the people who become victims will not give the police a particle of assistance. They will do the usual amount of kicking, however."

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST.

Rev. Frank E. Mason delivered an address to a good audience of those interested in Christian Science yesterday afternoon in Old Fellows Hall. His plea is for a higher conception of man. Since man is made in the image and likeness of God it is his province to be above the disorders postulated by human belief—sin, sickness, death, poverty, etc. He asserts that the fundamental statement of Christian Science is that the conditions of human life are the result of human thought.

In the evening he met a number of those desiring to take a course in Christian Science. The class will be completed this evening, and the first lesson will be taught in Ludian Hall, Y.M.C.A. building, beginning at 7:45 o'clock.

PECK IS NOT ALARMED.

His Refusal to Give Up His Papers Generally Approved.

ALBANY, Sept. 18.—Labor Commissioner Peck is receiving many letters from all parts of the country, from Democrats and Republicans, on his controversy with the National Democratic Committee. His refusal to permit them to overhaul his papers is very generally approved. Every one who has ever collected statistics knows that business men will not answer questions as to the number of men in their employ, amount of wages paid and other questions relating to their private affairs except with the understanding and pledge given by the State that such detailed facts will not be published where their rivals can get at them. Many firms refuse to answer the questions at all.

The Labor Bureau's circulars sent out every month invariably state that the information is to be used for compiling statistics and for no other purpose. If Commissioner Peck permitted answers so obtained to be published he would be guilty of breach of trust, and future statistics of industry would be impossible to obtain.

Commissioner Peck, who is a stalwart Democrat, says that he is perfectly willing to show the replies collectively to any one having authority to see them. The municipal committee has no rights in the matter whatever. He has no fear of the result. Speaking of his own position, Mr. Peck says:

"I am a Democrat. I have never been anything else and never expect to be. I am not going to submit to persecution because the authentic statistics of industry which I have collected do not agree with muggump tariff theories. The census bureau has never been proved by experts both in Europe and America. Their accuracy has never been called in question." Mr. Peck went to New York today.

THE CENSUS CONFIRMS MR. PECK.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—It has been learned that Superintendent Porter, of the Census Bureau, is greatly interested in the result of the investigation of Labor Commissioner Peck of New York, showing that both production and wages have increased under the McKinley law. The same gratifying result is shown by the census figures, and Superintendent Porter will at once compile a bulletin from the figures in his department showing the agreement, not only with Commissioner Peck's report, but with those of Commissioners Wadlin of Massachusetts and Peck of Indiana.

ADJUDICATED TO HAVE APPROVED ALSO.

Boston, Sept. 17.—Labor Commissioner Wadlin of Massachusetts is absent. He has sent a letter to Labor Commissioner Peck of New York cordially approving it, and his refusal to accede to the demands of the muggump committee. One of the Massachusetts Board of Labor, when asked today by the Press correspondent if, under like circumstances, the board would give confidential reports, replied:

"No, not if the board was ordered by the full bench of the Supreme Court."

THE ONLY POSSIBLE GROUNDS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Carroll D. Wright, National Commissioner of Labor, has not returned to Washington. His subordinates say that the New York Labor Commissioner has taken the only right ground which it is possible to take in refusing an irresponsible investigating committee access to his private papers.

FELL AMONG THIEVES.

A Young Easterner's Experience with Los Angeles Sure-thing Men.

For some days past the police detectives have been on the track of a gang of sure-thing gamblers who have been operating in this city.

At their headquarters on Main street they conduct a faro game whenever the police are not too close on their tracks, but their principal occupation is "doing up" high-toned "suckers" that come out here from the East and put up at the swell hotels.

Early last week a young man of this stamp, with more money than brains, visited the city on his honeymoon. When he was not making love to his young wife he spent his time cultivating the above-mentioned bunco men.

It took these fellows but a short time to discover that the "suckers" pockets were well stuffed, and they set their nets for the big fish. The first evening of the gamboling, the young man was allowed to stay in, and usually the case when a fat bird is to be plucked by these human hawks.

The next night the "sucker" again visited his "friends" and was "done up" for the sum of $1,600, but instead of taking things in an humble manner, as thoroughbred "suckers" invariably do, this chap broke over the established rules and provided in such cases and started to clean the crowd out in the Corbett fashion.

Had he been successful the matter would probably never have reached the ears of the police, but he was promptly laid out and sent to his hotel, slightly disfigured and not in the ring by any means."

As soon as he declared himself when he discovered that he had been robbed, he smashed the first gambler who came within reach, and a general fight was soon under full headway."

The "sucker" is a powerful young man and he managed to get in several telling blows, but the bunco men were too many for him, and in a few minutes he was in a fit condition for the receiving hospital, but as that institution is closed to the police station he was sent to his hotel, where he told a most pitiful story about how he was set upon by foot-pads and robbed."

The whole story leaked out, however, and the police were alerted. The case has been worked up to such a point that there would be no trouble about convicting three or four of these fellows, but the victim flatly refuses to prosecute, and the detectives who worked up the case are so angry that they cannot see straight."

Cases of this kind are a common occurrence in this city and will continue to be as long as the victims of swindling men refuse to go into court and prosecute the men who have robbed them."

The people are always kicking about the police not doing their duty, but they should remember that the police can do nothing without evidence, and if the victims of the robbers will not go to court the police are powerless."

The district fair will open next week in this city, and the city is already beginning to fill up with the usual gang of robbers, but it is safe to say that the people who become victims will not give the police a particle of assistance. They will do the usual amount of kicking, however."

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST.

Rev. Frank E. Mason delivered an address to a good audience of those interested in Christian Science yesterday afternoon in Old Fellows Hall. His plea is for a higher conception of man. Since man is made in the image and likeness of God it is his province to be above the disorders postulated by human belief—sin, sickness, death, poverty, etc. He asserts that the fundamental statement of Christian Science is that the conditions of human life are the result of human thought.

In the evening he met a number of those desiring to take a course in Christian Science. The class will be completed this evening, and the first lesson will be taught in Ludian Hall, Y.M.C.A. building, beginning at 7:45 o'clock.

AT THE CHURCHES.

Sermon to Men Only by Rev. Mr. Collins.

Frightful Facts Set Forth in a Foreboding and Convincing Manner.

Some Figures Which Will Open the Eyes of the People.

Regular Services at Immanuel Presbyterian, First Methodist, Temple Street Christian and St. John's Episcopal Churches.

At the Y.M.C.A. rooms yesterday afternoon Rev. Mr. Collins addressed a men's meeting upon the subject of "Frightful Facts" in relation to the evils of the city and the ruinous course pursued by a large per cent. of the young men of the town.

In introducing the speaker Secretary Ball said that although the association had increased from 160 to over 500 members in a year and 250 young men were in their evening classes, and others were availing themselves of its various agencies of self-improvement, yet even more young men were being dragged down by evils which flourished in utter violation of law. That the object of this series of addresses was twofold, to awaken to the necessity of enforcing laws already passed, but especially to point young men to the only safe way of escape as laid down in the teachings of Christ.

Mr. Collins took as a foundation for his text that passage in Psalms: "For I have seen violence and strife in the city." He said that while the recent revival occasioned in religious circles through the Mills' meetings had been of considerable and wide-spread effect, the general tendency of the feeling was to permeate scarcely at the lower strata of society and the remotest dregs of degradation.

The speaker further continued that the social evil and hospital movements had in turn been taken up by the churches and people, but that each again in turn had failed in producing a perceptible remedy for existing depravity and help for the suffering. "It is a frightful fact," he said, "that churches will allow their denominational prejudices to stand in the way of doing the much-needed good."

Mr. Collins then went into a discussion upon the alarming extent to which houses of immorality were permitted to ply their abhorred trade.

"We have more of these houses in the town than a city of 60,000 inhabitants can afford to support. It is a mistake to suppose that only the lower classes patronize the dens of evil, for there are many young men who are now keeping company with some of the most lovable young ladies in the city, who habitually visit these hatches of infamy, in the form of what are called the 'better houses.'"

A boy had been led into a place on Buena Vista street and wild into spending money not his own. The speaker, with the father of the boy and an officer, had gone to the place at night and found nearly forty women, mainly colored, most of them intoxicated and all utterly depraved.

There were five dance halls in the city, connected with which were at least forty women carrying on open prostitution. These perils beset even boys of tender years.

Another frightful fact was the existence of the concert saloon and the crowds of young men who frequented them. One hundred and fifty young men were counted in one place and seventy-five in each of two others at one time. This was but a small part of the number who visited each place as the crowd was constantly changing. During one hour 107 men came in and 119 passed out of one saloon by actual count, and so the tide flowed in and out until midnight still found the place thronged. It was not the police force who were responsible for this state of affairs.

There was never a better Chief of Police than the present occupant of that position. The fact was that the community at large which permitted such things. The man who, while deprecating the existence of an Alameda street, exclaimed against touching it for fear the evil would be scattered was a coward. Los Angeles is not the worst of cities. Many are worse, yet these facts are a blot upon her, and the speaker was willing to lend hearty support to any measure which would drive out the evil and remove this menace to the community at large which permitted such things. In the presence of 2500 people Peter McNabb yesterday afternoon took out his revenge on the unfortunate Dukes for their treatment of him on Friday and pitched out one of the most magnificent games ever seen on the California diamond. For nearly two hours he alternated with Mr. Harper, who humiliated the Angels a couple of days before, and the little Duke was hardly "in it" in any stage of yesterday's proceedings.

Such a combination of curves, speed and twirls as McNabb worked came to the plate would be hard to duplicate. He exercised his brain as well as his arm, and found every man's weakness who had faced him before, and then took advantage of the apparently helpless hitters between innings. The game was marked off without a run or a hit, and through it all Peter smiled at the Dukes as they faced him as though daring them to smash out the ball.

When it was all over and counted up it was found that the champion Dukes' visible assets were: Runs, 0; base hits, 1; errors, 5; Liabilities, runs, 10; base hits, 12. That one lone hit allowed by Big Pete was a measly single that barely rolled safe, and was plucked out by Nicholas Loeb, who was playing the outfield for his hitting ability. It came in the eighth inning, after Stafford's error had given Jerry Denny a life, but the next three men were easy outs and nothing came of Nick's little surprise. This was the nearest the visitors came to scoring during the afternoon.

McNabb's support was of the gilded variety. Glenalvin covered all the ground between second and third right field, and made some of the most thrilling assists ever seen on the local diamond. Once he retired a man by fielding a slow hit in front of the middle bag and heaving it over the head of the gentleman on the initial while resting on one foot and one shoulder trying to swing around. On another occasion he pulled down a fly clear out in right field, and besides all this star fielding made three hits which counted for runs. Stafford's work was as fast as Glenalvin's. He made a couple of pick-ups while on a dead run and shot the ball across to first ahead of the runner, amid the widest applause.

In the outfield McVey made a most sensational catch of a short liner from Stafford's bat in the eighth, for which he was heartily cheered. Tredway and Wright did quite as well a couple of times.

The Angels equaled two runs in the first on a single by Wright and a home-run drive by Tredway. Four more were scored in the third on an error by Denny, a force by Tredway, singles by McCauley, Glenalvin, Baldwin and Hulen, a sacrifice by Lytle and a wild pitch. One more came in the next on singles by Wright and Glenalvin, and errors by Everett and Harper. Another was added in the seventh when Glenalvin was hit by a pitched ball, Lytle walked to first, and Hulen singled. The last two came in the eighth on singles by Tredway and Glenalvin, a triple by "Pop" McCauley and a wild pitch. Wright was induced out of a base hit in this inning when Manassau called him out at first, after he had beaten the ball out. Following is the score:

give against a runner unless he sees the breach himself, but yesterday Manassau gave his ruling on Denny's statement.
The Tufts-Lyon beat the Redonda team yesterday by a score of 16 to 6, knocking Brant out of the box. The features of the game were the general all-around playing of the Tufts-Lyon boys, who put up a good game both at the bat and in the field. Brown's stick work was fine, also Hartley's playing in center, while Tyler, Long, Taylor, Arnold and Moore held up their positions in fine shape.

Oakland, 7; San Francisco, 2.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—The Oakland team won another game from the San Francisco club this afternoon by hard hitting. The score was 7 to 2. The Colonels bunched their hits against Hoffman, while the San Franciscoes could not do much with Horner's delivery. In the seventh inning a foul tip glanced off Jim Sharp's bat and struck him in the side of the face, breaking the cheek bone.

Base hits—San Francisco, 5; Oakland, 11. Errors—San Francisco, 3; Oakland, 4.

Bad Blood

Impure or vitiated blood is nine times out of ten caused by some form of constipation or indigestion that clogs up the system, where the blood naturally becomes impure. It is the cause of many diseases, and it is the cause of many diseases. The old Sarsaparilla attempt to reach this condition by attacking the blood with the drastic mineral "potash." The potash theory is old and obsolete. Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is modern. It goes to the source of the trouble, cleanses the liver, kidneys and bowels to healthful action, and invigorates the circulation, and the impurities are quickly carried off through the natural channels. Chas. Lee, at Beattin's Third and Market streets, S. F., writes: "I took it for vitiated blood and while on the first bottle became convinced of its merit. I could feel it was working a change. It cleansed, purified and braced me up generally, and everything is now working full and regular."

JOY'S Sarsaparilla

Many druggists have a cheaper Sarsaparilla than Joy's. As they make more on it, they'll try to sell you it. Insist on Joy's.

SOME advertising is absurd, and all newspaper men will tell you more money is, thrown away on worthless advertising than there is made on good advertising.

A good advertiser will tell you what he has to sell and when you call to see the goods he has them to show you.

Some will discredit a good advertiser because a poor advertiser has deceived them. We do not disappoint you in our advertising.

When we tell you we have 200 different and distinct styles of 50-cent dress goods, we do not mean ten or twenty styles.

Along last May we laid plans to capture the largest dress goods trade in the city, and in order to do so the main thing was to get good styles and good qualities and make one popular price and then advertise them extensively and capture the trade, and this we have done.

We never miss a sale on the 50-cent line of all-wool dress goods. We have concentrated our efforts on the best single line of dress goods you ever saw.

Concentration and forceful advertising. Fifty-cent dress goods. There is concentration, everlastingly keeping the 50-cent line before the people—that is forceful advertising.

You realize that we have done the same in cloaks. We have forced the cloak business before the people.

On every bundle we have sent out is the legend, "The largest cloak department." We have kept cloaks in the window.

We have had the goods to show. We have forced cloaks in all advertising, and the result is the cloak business of this house is larger than all the cloakhouses combined.

The total result is we have more than doubled sales in dress goods already, and we shall add a third more before the season is over.

The 50-cent line placed before the people in a just and proper manner will command the crowds, and it is the crowds who buy the goods. P. and P. Kid Gloves, this will be another forceful thing.

If you won't read about P. and P. Kid Gloves we will tack a sign on your kitchen door—P. and P. Kid Gloves. You must know all about them. They are the best wearing and the best fitting. They are right. They will establish business for the house. Glove boxes given free to all purchasers of a pair of kid gloves today. It makes no difference about the price.

SPORTING NEWS.

The Outlook for the Fall Race Meeting.

The Best Lot of Horses Ever Seen on the Local Track.

Two Events Which Will Attract the Attention of the Country.

A Novelty in the Way of a Gentlemen's Driving Race—Some of the Entries—World's Fair Shooting Tournament.

On Monday next, one week from today, the thirteenth annual fair of the Sixth District Agricultural Association will open in this city, but, since Los Angeles has developed from a simple county seat into the metropolis of Southern California, she no longer looks forward to this as the event of the year, and will not be en fete to celebrate it, as she was wont in days gone by.

This fact must not, however, be construed as a sign that less interest is now manifested in the fair by the Angelenos than was shown by them in the past, for such is not the case. The prospect for this year's fair are unusually bright and favorable, and there is every reason for the belief that it will result satisfactorily to all concerned.

To a great extent the success of the fair depends upon that of the race meeting held in connection with it, and which is one of its most attractive features. On this score there need be no misgivings, judging from the entries which were published last week, for it would be a difficult matter indeed to bring together a better class of horses than that which will be seen on the local track next week. Among the stables represented will be those of the Owens Bros., John G. Hill, W. R. Langworthy, Dave Bridges, T. A. Cape, M. A. Forster, E. R. Den, G. F. Williams, D. R. Dickey, E. A. Neame, G. Sherman, West & Beam, R. Stipe and Walter Maiben, all of whom own running horses. The harness horses will be better represented than their speedier brethren, as extra inducements have been offered them in the shape of larger purses. Still, taken as a whole, the directors of the association have much cause for self-congratulation on the result of their efforts thus far.

The free-for-all trot for a $2000 purse, which will bring together McKinney, Richmond, Jr., Shylock and Aster, and the $1500 free-for-all pace, for which Silkwood, Our Dick, Tom Ryder, Princess Alice and W. Wood will compete, are events such as are not provided at many race meetings, and none know it better than those who live in this vicinity. The probabilities are, therefore, that both will be witnessed by the largest crowd that ever assembled at a Southern California track.

Another event, which, though somewhat of a novelty, is attracting considerable attention is the gentlemen's driving race. It will be competed for by Dr. Dodge, W. P. McIntosh, P. Fitzgerald, W. J. Keller, E. W. Wilcox, "Billy" Dwellwyn, C. E. Fout, G. Reed and N. A. Covarrubias, all of whom are well known in this city.

For some time past there has been a quiet rivalry between these and other gentlemen residing in this city and vicinity, which has, up to the present time, merely resulted in an occasional "brush" on San Pedro street, but those friendly contests will be as nothing compared with that of next week.

Preparations are being made at the track for the accommodation of the 180 odd horses and herds of cattle which will have to be provided for during the course of the present and all next week, but the work is being pushed rapidly and will be completed in a few days.

SHOOTING TOURNAMENT.

Extensive preparations for the Great World's Fair Contest.

The Illinois Sportsmen's Association making extensive preparations for the proposed tournament to be held during the World's Fair and will issue the programme arranged for this event in the near future. It is understood that all the noted wing shots of the world will be there, and that such an array of luminaries will be displayed as to dazzle those who gaze upon it.

Forest and Stream suggests the following:

Agent a world's trap tournament in Chicago in 1893, what an opportunity that would be to decide upon the champion live pigeon shooter of the world. In our judgment the proper way to arrange such a contest would be to have a contest at 500 live pigeons per man—100 each day for five days—$250 entrance fee, bird money to be deducted from the pot and the entire balance.
